MR. DOLL AND THE SPEEDWAY.

THE POLICE ORDERED TO ENFORCE THE CLAUSEN REGULATION-AUTOMOBILES IN CENTRAL PARK.

eems to be some divergence of opinion as to the force of the decree recently given by Justice Gildersleeve in favor of William F. Doll, in regard to his right to ride on a horse or in a landau on the Harlem Speedway. The Park Department takes the ground that the decision permits Mr. Doll and nobody else to use the Speedway for such The Police Department at first seemed to hold that it entitled anybody to do so, but later limited the privilege to Mr. Doll. The decision says: Adjudged—That the action of the defendants in preventing the plaintiff from riding or driving in a landau on January 15 and 16, 1889, respectively, on the road on the west bank of the Harlem River, commonly known as the Speedway, was illegal.

Now, since Mr. Doll is not supposed to have inherently any rights which other citizens do not have, it would seem as if the decision that a certain action against him was illegal would imply that the same action against anybody was illegal, and, therefore, that the Court was not conferring any exclusive privilege on Mr. Doll. developments, as President Clausen of the Park Board means to appeal the case, to get Mr. Doll's present rights taken away from him, while Mr Doll, on his part, means to appeal also, to establish more rights than he already has. Bleycles are still barred from the Speedway, and Mr. Doll does not mean to rest satisfied till every sort of pleasure vehicle is allowed there. He calls upon all persons interested in automobiles to join him in se curing what he regards as their rights on the Speedway. According to Mr. Doll, the police have permitted landaus on the Speedway, whether driven by Mr. Doll or anybody else.

Captain Kirschner sald yesterday afternoon that he had received an order from Chief Devery directing him to allow Mr. Doll to ride on the Speedway between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock, either could ride between the hours named, but that no one else could. The captain did not know whether Mr. Doll had appeared on the Speedway yesterday or not.

There has been some talk recently about the exclusion of automobiles from Central Park. It is announced, however, that there are been no application to the Board within a year for the admission of automobiles to the Park. If such an application is made, as no doubt it will be in due time, it will naturally receive the consideration of the Park Board.

Although the Rev. Drs. A. C. Dixon and H. M.

The trus-tees realize that they have a hard task before tees realize that they have a hard task before them in filling Dr. Faunce's place; and in order that the pulpit shall not remain vacant for any extended period, they are already devoting themselves earnestly to the labor of finding a suitable pastor. It is recognized, however, that a long time may elapse before a minister can be selected who will fill the pulpit with such satisfaction as Dr. Faunce did, not so much in the matter of personal qualifications, as in the wielding of the same influence in the denominational councils at large.

THE TAXATION OF FRANCHISES. To the Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: I have been unable to reply to your circular letter relating to the principle of taxing franchises

The people of Wyoming follow pastoral or minin The people of Wyoming follow pastoral or mining pursuits almost exclusively, and few franchises of any importance have been granted: therefore, the subject is one that does not especially interest our people as a Commonwealth.

Personally, I feel that a franchise which gives such advantages as to make it valuable as a privilege should be subject to taxation the same as property which possesses value. Yours truly, DE F. RICHARDS, Governor.

story when seen last evening, but he talked without reserve about the political situation in the West. "Minnesota has a normal Republican majority of 55,000," he said, "She gave Mr. McKinley 55,000 majority in 1896, but she will give him 75,000 majority in 1896, but she will give him 75,000 in 1000. The Republicans will probably nominate for Governor next year the strongest man in the State—Judge Collins, of the Supreme Court. Judge Collins has carried the State by the largest majority ever given to any candidate, and is far and away the most popular man in the party.

"I feel confident that the next Democratic nominee for President will be Carter Harrison, the present Mayor of Chicago. My reasons for thinking so are these: First, Mr. Bryan's popularity is on the wane. Although he undoubtedly has still a large following among the Western and Southern Democrats, it is not as large as it was, and is entirely too small to overcome the opposition from the Eastern and Northern branches of the party. Second, Carter Harrivon's popularity is increasing as steadily as Mr. Bryan's is decreasing. He is following out exactly the same course pursued by Grover Cleveland.

"It was Mr. Cleveland's clean, strong administration of affairs as Mayor of Buffalo that made him Governor and afterward President. When Mr. Harrison vetoed the Chicago street railway franchise he won the unbounded admiration of the people of Chicago and Illinots. It is a significant fact that when he was last elected Mayor he carried the six heaviest Republican wards of Chicago. He is the Moses who will lead his party out of the wilderness. He will be a far more formidable candidate than Hryan would be, but even then he has a very small chance of beating McKinley."

"I have just received a letter from my office in Amsterdam stating that the Chamber of Commerce has succeeded in getting an appropriation through the Dutch Government for deepening and widening the North Sea Canal, which runs from the North Sea to Amsterdam. Hereto-fore the larger steamships have not been able to come through the canal, and is enlargement will be an inestimable boom to the commerce of Amsterdam. When the improvements are completed our city will be able to compete commercially with Rotterdam, Antwerp and Hamburg. When it became known that the appropriation had been made, there was great joy in Amsterdam. Flags were displayed all over the city. Thanks to the wise reign of our young Queen Wilhelmina, Holland is prospering to an almost unprecedented degree, both politically and commercially. In no other country in Europe is a Queen more universally loved than in Holland. It is not her exalted station so much as her charming personality, her independence and her strong will—the latter a prominent characteristic of all the members of the House of Orange—that has won for her the respect and unswerving devotion of all parties in Holland. Next to her in the love of the Hollanders comes Queen Emma, the late Queen Regent.

MIAMUS PRESIDENT RESIGNS

Oxford, Ohio, June 24 .- Dr. Thompson has to-day signified his intention to resign the presidency of Miami University and to accept the call of the Ohio State University to be its president. His resig-nation is to take effect July 1.

PORT RICHMOND (S. I.) HIGH SCHOOL. The Port Richmond High School has just finished its examinations, and its report for the last year is very satisfactory. Professor Eugene Putnam, the principal, who is also the principal of Mariner's Harbor and Washington-ave. public schools, has Harbor and Washington-ave, public schools, has done a good year's work in the advancement of study. This being the first year of the High School, the pupils have made excellent records, and the average percentages were unusually high. Two graduates, one of whom will enter the Teachers' Institute and two post-graduates will leave the school this term.

The reception will take place on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the High School.

ANGLO-AMERICANISM AND TRADE.

A KINDLY BRITISH VIEW OF COMMERCIAL RI-VALRY.

Lord Charles Beresford in The Pall Mall Magazine, The new and friendly sentiments of the other branch of our race have been well expressed in the address recently sent to this country, signed by fifteen hundred representative men of the United States. They found them on the recognition "that the same language and the same principles of ordered liberty should form the basis of an intimate and enduring friendship between these kindred peoples—a friendship destined to hasten the day of peace and goodwill among all the nations of the earth."

peoples—a friendship destined to hasten the day of peace and goodwill among all the nations of the earth."

In this sentence are contained the dreams of many thousands and the hopes of millions; for there can be no doubt that a workable understanding would "do much to insure the continued peace and prosperity, not only of the Anglo-Saxon race, but of the entire civilized world."

The Peace Conference could not effect half as much as a thorough understanding between the United States and Great Britian could accomplish. Geographically, and by virtue of character and numbers, such an alliance would be irresistible in promoting peace. Who can dount that the heavy sword which the united Anglo-Saxon race could throw into the balance would constitute them the arbiters between contending nations? and what race has ever shown itself more fitted for such power, so honestly likely to wield it with honor and justice? There are some who are ready to hold out the bugbear of commercial rivairy as an obstacle to cordini feeling between the two nations. Just now we are hearing a great deal of large railway orders which have gone to the United States. As a Britisher, I deplore that we for a time seem to be unable to hold our own against American or any other competitors, but I do not think that healthy rivairy of this sort will ever be detrimental to either. Our manufacturers must move with the times and put down newer plant. We must make more use of electricity, and our workmen must learn the bitter lesson that needless strikes and disturbances when trace is good react on their authors when times are bad.

Apart from this the United States is our second-best customer, and we are the largest customer she has. The food of the British workingman is more dependent upon the goodwill of the United States than upon any other country. On the other side, wherever the American manufacturer abroad finds an open market for his surplus products, and free trading facilities, it is the British axapayer, by means of the British fleet, who has
